Description

October's Joomla User Group London Monthly Meetup (#JUGL)

Join us for this month's JUG London, Phil Walton has managed to drag himself back across Germany from JWC26 in time for the evening. This month he opens a series on using AI in the wild, starting with guard rails, to keep your AI in check.

AI Guard rails, getting started

Quis custodiet ipsos custodes? Who watches the watchmen? These days the watchman is quite often an AI, and for most of us nobody decided what it was allowed to touch. It was simply already there, in the code and on the sites.

Following on from his highly successful talk at JWC26, Phil Walton has managed to drag himself back across Germany to make it in time for JUG London. This is the first in a series of presentations from Phil about using AI in the wild, starting with guard rails, to keep your AI in check.

Phil co-founded JUG London in 2009 and still co-organises it. He runs Softforge, and over the years has given the group a steady line of practical sessions: YooTheme Pro workflows, Mattermost for community teams, making Joomla 4 stable, setting up SSH key pairs properly. In April he and Gary Barclay talked through what they had learnt from using AI to pre-check Joomla for security flaws.

Online, via Google Meet.

Schedule — starts 18:00 UTC (19:00 BST) 20th Oct, runs until 20:00 UTC (21:00 BST):
18:00 — Introductions, chit-chat, and news
